

Sceneries seen by famous generals in the late Edo period - Experience being a samurai and princess at Tangando, a cave visited by Ryoma Sakamoto (Lunch included)

(Time required: 2 hours)

In the era of "The Last Samurai," the stories of three men intersected in Fukui: Saigo Takamori, who maintained his samurai spirit in battle; Matsudaira Shungaku, the lord of Fukui who aimed for peaceful reform; and Sakamoto Ryoma, who maintained his samurai pride and dreamed of a free country.

In this land where the heroes of the late Edo period were involved, why not become a princess or a samurai and become part of Japanese history? After taking photos in the atmospheric garden of the historic restaurant "Tangando," enjoy a luxurious moment enjoying traditional Echizen cuisine. Experience timeless emotions here in Fukui.
